DAYSUN

DAYSUN to Showcase RangeFort Tactical Goggles at SHOT Show 2027

A bold tactical profile with a focus on wearing comfort.

DAYSUN will showcase RangeFort at SHOT Show 2027, adding a new tactical goggle design to its shooting eyewear offering. RangeFort pairs a bold tactical profile with foam-cushioned comfort for tactical training and shooting environments.

The design balances a strong tactical look with attention to wearing comfort. Foam cushioning softens contact with the face, while perimeter ventilation supports airflow. Interchangeable lenses include anti-fog and scratch-resistant treatments.

For brands developing or expanding their tactical eyewear collections, RangeFort provides an opportunity to explore a new design with DAYSUN. The company welcomes discussions on product requirements and OEM/ODM development, helping buyers assess how the goggle could fit their markets and product lines.

Visit DAYSUN at Booth 40810 to explore RangeFort and discuss your next OEM/ODM eyewear project.
