WJ-ND200 NEW	32	The Panasonic WJ-ND200 Network Video Recorder (1 TB HDD, NTSC) is a secure and user-friendly network recorder specifically designed for surveillance purposes. Measuring only 11" (270mm) wide, it offers unsurpassed security in a space-saving design. It is capable of monitoring from 9 to 16 cameras, making it suitable for surveillance in small to mid-sized businesses, or anywhere that network recording is desired. The WJ-ND200 is an industry leading network video recorder providing complete and intuitive functionality with a level of reliability and stability not offered by conventional PC-based recorders
WV-CF324 NEW	159	The Panasonic WV-CF324 is a high resolution dome camera equipped with a Day/Night function and housed in a ruggedly constructed dome capsule. This level of quality and durability makes it the camera of choice for shops, banks, medical facilities and even prisons Day/Night function auto switches the camera from color to a light sensitive B/W mode when light levels fall, thus ensuring optimum image quality 24-hours a day . ABF auto adjusts the camera's focus during the Day/Night switching process. This ensures that images do not become off-focus due to the focusing requirements being slightly different for color and for B/W images. ABS enhances the dark regions of an image so that its details can be readily distinguished. Moreover, it does this without causing the already bright areas of the image from appearing as washed-out.
WV-CW244F NEW	84	Panasonic WV-CW244F surveillance camera is able to withstand severe direct impact and can be used outdoors with it's rugged construction equally effective in keeping out rain, dust and wind. This makes it ideal for installation in locations where there is a potential risk of intentional or accidental damage to the camera such as construction sites, prisons, or hospital facilities. An array of settings ensures proper operation under different light levels and operating environments including low light levels and harsh back-lit situations. A 3-D hinge attachment enables easy camera angle adjustment inside the dome. The WV-CW244F is flush mounted and installs easily inside an existing junction box.
WV-NF302 NEW	181	Panasonic WV-NF302 more than excels on both counts. But this is just where it starts. Chances are, every feature and function you can conceive of, Panasonic thought of it too and incorporated it into this camera. And with a name like Panasonic, you can expect to get only the best, both in terms or performance and durability.
WV-NP304 NEW	57	With its 1.3 MP CCD and 0.9 lux rating (B/W mode), the Panasonic WV-NP304 more than excels on both counts. Outstanding Image Quality - Because of its superior image clarity, a megapixel camera can provide you with the level of detail not available with a VGA camera. Furthermore, by starting off with such a high resolution, you can digitally magnify the image several times over and still be able to make out identifying details. Simultaneous MPEG-4/MJPEG Streaming - gives you better control over how data is distributed over the network. For example, you can use the lower resolution but faster MPEG-4 codec when viewing live images, and at the same time output data to a recorder using the higher quality MJPEG compression format.
