FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Dona Bela SHREDS® Introduces Game Day SHREDS & Brings New Life to Textile Remnants

Dona Bela SHREDS upcycles fabric remnants into one-of-a-kind creations, designing beautiful neckwear and headwear that stand out for their style and environmental impact.

Ladies want to look festive, but unless you're a diehard fan, who wants to drop a hundred dollars on a jersey they might wear once or twice? With Dona Bela SHREDS, you can get into the sporty spirit with team colored accessories that are fun, comfortable and seriously budget-friendly (starting at just $24.00)!

Game Day Shreds, by Iowa-based Dona Bela SHREDS, are unique neckwear using the leftover fabric from this season's must-have wardrobe. The results are colorful, one-of-a-kind pieces that just brighten your day! This innovative fashion brand seamlessly combines elements of practicality, elegance and originality to new, unused textile remnants.

What team are you rooting for and what are their colors? With over 30 color combinations, you're bound to find the perfect Shred to rock while cheering on the home team!

Designed and handmade in Des Moines, Dona Bela SHREDS are created to help customers feel beautiful, confident and comfortable while doing good for the environment and community. A portion of every sale is donated to a charity in line with the company's values.
