SOURCE INTRODUCES EVERWOOD

March 23, 2020

The Source International team is excited to debut Everwood—a modern take on a classical wooden chair.

Everwood's curved, clean lines highlight the marriage of organic and man-made materials. Each line is continuous, making the sculptural form visually appealing from all angles. The solid ash frame gives stability to the lightweight poly seat and backrest.

The minimal form can be accredited to the chair's German designer, Andreas Ostwald. Ostwald says, "The natural beauty of the wood plays against the plastic harmoniously. As the wood sings 'longevity,' the plastic speaks 'long-lasting.' Together, the materials echo Everwood."

Scandinavian sensibilities are evident not only through its aesthetics but through its resourceful use of materials. Everwood is minimal materially, with the recyclability of its plastic seat and back making it a sustainable choice.

Everwood is a multi-use chair in the traditional sense. Across corporate, hospitality, education, and healthcare spaces—the chair belongs, invites, and delights. As its wood frame gives visceral warmth, its ergonomically shaped seat and backrest provide maximum comfort. Source offers 23 finish options for the wood frame, and 6 color options for the poly seat and backrest. An upholstered seat pad is optional.

Source International continues to introduce contract products that provide a blend of sophisticated design and user-friendly pricing. Everwood passes ANSI/BIFMA testing and comes with Source International's standard Lifetime Structural Warranty.
