MINUS33.COM 1-855-MINUS33 INFO@MINUS33.COM 22B MILL ST. P.O. BOX 515 ASHLAND, NH 03217

Minus33 was founded on the notion of creating high quality performance garments for the active outdoor community. Our roots date back to 1916 and the textile manufacturing company L.W. Packard, headquartered in Ashland, New Hampshire where we operate from today. Having formerly been one of the world's leading merino wool textile manufacturers for over 90 years under L.W. Packard, it was only logical for us to develop Minus33 as a Merino Wool clothing company.

New Hampshire is home to some of the world's harshest weather, which has provided an excellent testing ground for our clothing and apparel. We know from many years of manufacturing experience that nature has given mankind the best fiber in the world, Merino Wool, to equip avid outdoor athletes to couch surfers. Our company is full of active outdoor enthusiasts who continually look to develop new, functional clothing through their hobbies and interests. We love to be outside and hopefully you do too!

With more than 100 years of business and textile manufacturing experience, we believe in providing a superior quality product at a price people can afford. We don't like over paying and we don't want you to either! We have been, and always will be, accessible and welcome any questions or concerns you may have. We are proud of our 100+ year history, values we stand on, and we encourage you to experience Minus33 for yourself!

WHY WE LOVE MERINO WOOL

■ MOISTURE WICKING

Minus33 Merino Wool regulates the amount of moisture on your skin by absorbing any moisture or sweat on your body. Then, the absorbed moisture evaporates out of the fabric into the atmosphere.

■ ODOR RESISTANCE

With less moisture comes less odor. Merino Wool fibers naturally reject any bacteria in moisture or sweat as it is wicked away.

■ NATURAL ELASTICITY

Minus33 Merino Wool clothing is naturally elastic, allowing it to stretch to your movements. Our goal is to give you comfortable, breathable, soft, wicking layers for any trek you embark on.

■ CONTROLLED FELTING

All natural controlled felting, milling or fulling is a finishing treatment used on Merino Wool to achieve a number of effects including increased thickness, strength, and reduced air permeability.

■ FIRE RESISTANCE

Merino Wool insulates against high temperatures and does not readily catch fire. If it does, it self-extinguishes. When Merino burns, it doesn't melt and stick to the skin like synthetic fabrics do.

■ UV PROTECTION

Don't worry about sunburn on a sunny day summiting a peak. Lightweight layers have a UPF rating of 25. Midweight and Expedition Weight have a UPF rating of 50+.

■ ANTI-MICROBIAL

Minus33 Merino resists against microbes and odor, so foot fungus and smelly odor will not be a problem while wearing our products. Merino Wool's Natural wicking ability absorbs moisture and releases it back into the air.

■ RENEWABLE AND BIODEGRADABLE

Merino Wool garments are biodegradable and return to their natural elements. Shear a merino sheep in the morning, and in the afternoon they're happily nibbling their way towards renewing next season's clip.

OUR FABRIC WEIGHTS

At Minus33, we offer three distinct fabric weights across various styles. These weights are designed to suit your ideal environment. Whether you're going for a quick hike or a long trek, a bike ride or a hunting trip, fishing in the summer or skiing in the winter - we've got you covered for whatever environment your adventure entails. Whatever your favorite activity is, we have something suitable for you.

LIGHTWEIGHT

Merino Wool is no longer reserved for winter. Minus33's Lightweight clothing is designed to be worn year round as a base layer or as a solo piece in the spring and summer. Our Lightweight items are always the first layer on and the last layer off.

- JERSEY KNIT
- 170 G/M²
- 17.5 MICRONS
- UPF RATING 25

MIDWEIGHT

Versatile and comfortable, our Merino Wool will always have your back. Designed as a three-season garment, our Midweight works great as either a base or mid layer. Our Midweight styles are perfect for a day on the slopes or as an emergency pullover when a cold front rolls in just before you summit.

- INTERLOCK KNIT
- 230 G/M²
- 18.5 MICRONS
- UPF RATING 50+

EXPEDITION WEIGHT

Our Expedition products are suitable for the coldest climates and true expeditions. Originally designed for winter mountaineering on Mount Washington, Minus33 Expedition Weight clothing has seen action in the Antarctic, Arctic, and the summit of Mount Everest. When you need to keep the ever-present cold from seeping in, our Expedition items will be your best friend.

APPALACHIA SHORT SLEEVE CREW

The Appalachian Mountains are a mountain range in Eastern North America, running from Georgia all the way through New England. A popular and difficult adventure is to hike continuously the 2,184 Mile Appalachian Trail from one end to the other over several months. This journey will take you up and down numerous 4000+ footers; all considered large for eastern America.

Our Appalachia Women's Short Sleeve Crew is fashioned to become a girl's best friend on this long trek. The Superfine Lightweight Merino Wool of the Appalachia will keep you insulated and warm during the early (or late) months. The Natural Wicking ability of the Merino Wool will also keep you dry and smelling fresh on hot summer days.

Part of the Franconia Mountain Range, Mount Liberty at 4,459 feet is on the state's over 4,000 footer list. Liberty and the entire range are often climbed in the winter for extra difficulty and bragging rights.

Our Liberty is a perfect base thermal garment for winter trekking or mountaineering. It's a long sleeve ¼ zip with mock neck will allow venting while climbing, and zipping up for the descent. The 100% Merino Wool is super soft and comfortable to wear next to your skin and under your shell. The odor resistant and machine washable features are excellent for climbers and skiers. Wear our Liberty as your base layer and slide a Tanana Expedition Weight Crew over the top near the summit to hold in more warmth from the gusting wind.

OSSIPEE CREW

The Ossipee Mountains are nestled just south of the White Mountains with Mount Shaw its highest point at 2,999 feet. Having been formed by an ancient volcanic event, they now provide spectacular views of the Lakes Region and Southern New Hampshire.

Our Ossipee is a well-fitted, princess cut women's crew that provides cozy warmth and spectacular comfort while offering no fuss machine wash and dry easy care instructions. Whether studying the mountains or playing in the snow, geologists and outdoor enthusiasts alike will feel as if they are in the clouds while wearing this Midweight Merino Wool top.

The battles of Saratoga in 1777 are generally regarded as the turning point in the American War of Independence. The Continental Army's superior force and the extreme determination of its soldiers won the day.

Like its name implies, Mount Isolation stands alone at the southern end of the White Mountain Presidential Range. Epic and alone, it is on the list of New Hampshire's 48 4,000 foot or higher mountains and often the last peak to be climbed. When trekking your way to the summit of this mountain you may find yourself in temporary isolation in its pristine forests.

At times like these you will want to be wearing our Isolation. This Midweight ¼ zip garment will isolate you from the cold while allowing you to enjoy the beauty of the outdoors. Use its mock neck to help hold heat in during those cold mornings, and the ¼ zip to vent heat out while topping the peak. Our Isolation's Merino Wool insulation is an excellent three-season pull over that will surely be the last piece you take off.
