TOTARE CINQUE TERRA SLING BAG

Luxury sling bag inspired by authentic Indian leathercraft ideal for traveling and concealed carry

Tracy, CA, January 15, 2020 – Totare was conceived through one man's international travels and born during an unsuspecting visit back to his hometown, where he found the item he had—unknowingly—been searching the globe to find. He laid eyes on a beautifully handcrafted leather bag, sitting like the Taj Mahal on a Kansas plain. The man was drawn to this leather bag that stood out from its humble surroundings, and the first thread of Totare was sewn. Totare's founder further felt that the concealed carry bag industry left something to be desired. He reasoned that there was no reason a person shouldn't have a bag that is both aesthetically exceptional and convenient for concealed carry purposes. This set the stage for Totare's line of luxury leather concealed carry bags.

The Cinque Terra, like all Totare bags, was designed to pay homage to its humble origins, embodying the charm and authenticity of our founder's hometown. Handcrafted by Calcutta's traditional methods used by the world's most talented leather artisans, this saddlebag-style shoulder bag is the perfect picture of leather craftsmanship. Comprised of the finest materials found throughout the globe, the Cinque Terra will partner with you for life. With an unfinished, suede-like feel, this mocha leather even feels like the good old days.

Perfect for the adventurer in all of us, this sling bag organizes your smaller items—such as keys to your moped or your Aviators—in an interior zipper pocket, interior open pockets, back exterior zipper pocket, or one of five exterior pockets secured by classic brass buckles and snaps. With a roomy interior secured by an over flap and snap, this bag will stow the larger essentials as well, like your two-lens camera for capturing new sights or the spill-proof tumbler housing your iced macchiato. While traveling, it is crucial to keep prepared and protected. The spacious inner compartment and decorative exterior pockets of the Cinque Terra equip you to discreetly carry concealed personal firearms while maintaining convenient access in case of emergency.

The perfect companion for any voyage or adventure, our beautiful and durable leather Cinque Terra will safely transport your personal belongings in style.

About Totare: Combining the best of innovative concepts with traditional leather craftsmanship, Totare refuses to conform to the standards of industrial mass production. Each Totare bag is handcrafted by exceptionally talented genuine leather artisans, with extreme attention to detail, exemplifying classic leathercraft.
