ABOUT AMY

Amy Lighthall is a licensed surface designer and artist from the Pacific Northwest. Amy has always loved the arts and self expression, from singing, dancing and creating. She enjoys creating art daily in her home studio.

Most of Amy's work is created in layers with varying degrees of textures, color and contrast. The combination of these layers make it unique and beautiful. Sometimes her process starts at the computer with Photoshop and her digital drawing tablet and other times it starts very hands-on with painting, putty knives, pens and pencils. Amy creates unique and modern designs for products and wall art. Her wall art can be found in ZGallerie, on several television shows and in hotels around the world. Amy looks forward to meeting new clients who share her brand vision.
