

Oakwood Controls Announces Their Participation at ATAC Range Day January 16, 2017 at Nellis Air Force Base, NV

Oakwood Controls is proud to announce their participation at ATAC Range Day 2017 (<http://atacglobal.com/atac-range-day/>). Oakwood's Live-Fire Electronic Target Systems will be located on Range 2 between Magpul and Barrett. You may also visit their non-shooting booth in Range 3 for information and a live feed of the activity on Range 2.

2017 ATAC Range Day showcases the latest products/services for military, contracting and law enforcement units. This global event - dedicated to veterans - is where manufacturers, retailers and distributors can interact and get direct feedback from end users. There are over 40 countries represented.
