RAND CLP ANNOUNCES PARTNERSHIP WITH GOVX

All RAND Products Are Now Available for Purchase on GOVX Member Site.

Stratford, CT – December 12th, 2016 - RAND CLP, www.randclp.com, a division of XG Industries, has just announced a partnership with GOVX, an online retailer focusing on first responders and military personnel. This partnership means that all RAND products will be available for purchase on the GOVX website, www.govx.com, by all registered GOVX members, with exclusive member pricing.

“We are excited about this partnership because it allows our products to be seen and bought directly by the people we created them for,” said Marx Bowens, XG Industries Executive Chairman, “As a veteran owned and run company, providing high quality, dependable products for first responders and military personnel is our top priority.”

GOVX offers exclusive, members-only deals for current and former uniformed professionals, with savings of up to 65% on gear, apparel, technology, event tickets, travel and more. The GOVX vetting process is very stringent, as a result, they only partner with the best companies. This partnership affirms the fact that RAND products are first in class.

“Considering the large portion of our membership base who rely on firearms for their jobs and recreational lifestyles, we’re incredibly excited to bring RAND CLP on board as a new member to the GOVX family of brands. Their revolutionary technology and their commitment to making nothing but the best products have us convinced that this brand will quickly become a member favorite,” said Amber Martin, Vice President of Merchandising, GOVX.
