

ResinFiber LLC Announces Forj Is Available at the 2019 SHOT Show

January 15, 2019

Saco, ME – Forj thermoplastic tape-ribbon is the strongest, most adaptable material in the world. It is a pure polymer ribbon, that when heated, becomes moldable into any shape. Once cooled, its molecules couple and harden forming a tensile strength of over 1,000 pounds.

Forj ribbon comes in a tin and is sold online at www.forj.com as well as on Amazon. Each tin of Forj comes with 20' of white ribbon, instructions, and a variety of use-case ideas. Customers have used Forj in a vast array of situations, such as replacing chain links or towing full-sized pick-up trucks and boats. Forj is an essential addition to any backpack or toolbox.

One Forj customer remarked, “Frankly I am still in a daze about this amazing product, its strength and numerous applications are outstanding, plus the added advantage of being able to re-use the material is again impressive.”

In 2018, Forj received an Outdoor Retailer Innovation Award and continues to impress new users as one customer put it, “seeing the videos are one thing, but actually using the product will blow your mind.”
