

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

American Built Arms Company Launches the A*B Arms Urban Sniper Stock™

Glen Rock, PA (January 14, 2016) – American Built Arms Company (A*B Arms brand) is proud to introduce their latest innovative, lightweight product; the A*B Arms Urban Sniper Stock™. The Urban Sniper Stock™ provides the strength and durability needed in today's challenging urban environments.

The A*B Arms Urban Sniper Stock™ is designed and engineered for military, law enforcement, and firearms enthusiasts. The A*B Arms Urban Sniper Stock™ is a compact, lightweight, ergonomic precision rifle buttstock that can be used on any weapons system that utilizes a carbine length buffer tube. The ambidextrous cheek riser of the Urban Sniper Stock™ can be removed to create the Urban Assault Stock™, an ideal butt stock for AR-style rifles.

- Designed and manufactured in the U.S.A. by a Veteran-Owned company
- Fixed-Adjustable™ design – creates a rock-solid stock that eliminates movement and noise found in conventional carbine stocks
- Has a solid fixed stock body with an adjustable, spring loaded butt pad
- Spring loaded butt pad extends 1.25" with the touch of a button and is adjustable in .45" increments with four positions
- At 9.5 ounces and 6.7" in length (collapsed), the Urban Sniper Stock™ is the smallest and lightest sniper-style butt stock on the market
- Can be mounted on Mil-Spec or commercial buffer tubes
- Ambidextrous QD swing swivel mounts
- 1913 Picatinny rail on the bottom for mounting monopods and other accessories
- Removable, fully adjustable and ambidextrous cheek riser system
- Forward mounted, ergonomic and compact 5.25" cheek riser
- Cheek riser adjusts 0.75" from the body of the stock
- Cheek riser can be removed to create the Urban Assault Stock™
- Proprietary formula of heat stabilized nylon reinforced with high strength fibers
- Comes standard on the MOD*X GEN III Modular Rifle System™

The A*B Arms Urban Sniper Stock™ will be shipping in late-January, 2016 and will be on display at SHOT Show® in the American Built Arms Company booth #8108 (1st Level LE Area).
