RSR GROUP, INC. WELCOMES GEAR HEAD WORKS

Winter Park, FL – RSR Group, Inc. is pleased to announce the addition of Gear Head Works to its product offering. Gear Head Works' revolutionary Tailhook pistol braces, innovative Bullpup parts, and accessories are now available for purchase through RSR Group.

Gear Head Works manufactures sturdy, lightweight parts and accessories designed to improve functionality and accuracy. Their products are made in the USA and their innovative technology and features allow customers greater flexibility and performance. The popular Tailhook design is an ATF approved pistol brace that uses a rigid foldout support arm to counterbalance muzzle weight and is deployable with the touch of a button. Its compact footprint and lightweight design allow it to be adapted to countless host pistols.

"We are very excited to offer our customers the innovative products Gear Head Works provides," said Wes Knight, RSR Group's Vice President of Sales. "Their unique pistol braces and accessories are an excellent addition to our tactical assortment and will certainly be top sellers."

Gear Head Works products are now available to dealers through RSR Group's online catalog at www.rsrgroup.com.
