Newest Innovation in Less-lethal Defense Spray Technology: Reflex Protect® and Reflex Remove® Product Combo Addresses Longstanding Limitations of Pepper Spray and Tear Gas

MISSOULA, Montana – Reflex Protect, offering law enforcement and corrections a superior low use-of-force tool that can be fully reversed within 5 minutes, is a first-time exhibitor at the 2022 SHOT Show at Booth 62409. The company’s proprietary and immediate-acting Presidia Gel® defense spray and Reflex Remove® rapid decontaminant has received positive feedback from LE and corrections who have experienced the company products and have switched over their agencies.

To allow interested agencies and the media to see the product in action, the company is inviting officers and media to attend a Range Day from 2-6 pm on Monday, January 17th at Range 702, located at 5999 Dean Martin Drive in Las Vegas. Those interested should RSVP to tactical@reflexprotect.com. The company is also exhibiting at Booth 62409 in the Galileo ballroom on Level 1 of the Venetian Expo.

Pepper Spray Upgrade

New technology Presidia Gel and Reflex Remove was invented for frontline healthcare workers and security within highly sensitive emergency departments as a way to stop violent patients without disrupting others and then return them to normal quickly thereafter. It is a welcome solution for law enforcement and corrections professionals.

“With the increased scrutiny of law enforcement use of force, this is a lifesaving tool that increases officer safety, reduces injuries to both officers and suspects, allows the suspect to be taken into custody, decontaminated and returned to normal in a few minutes with no long-lasting effects,” explains Matt Schaefer, CEO of Reflex Protect. “All the reasons cops hate OC spray do not apply to Reflex Protect.”

Law enforcement has used Oleoresin Capsicum (OC) – pepper spray – as a less-lethal tool in low use-of-force response for decades. And while OC is an effective option, officers report blow back and cross-contamination of innocent bystanders and themselves as well as long decontamination timelines for both a subject, involved officers, and vehicles. Time spent in decon is time away from active duty.

Reflex Protect Presidia Gel causes immediate, involuntary eye closure and rapid debilitating effects in a highly accurate, non-atomizing stream that does not cross-contaminate others, waft into other rooms, or get pulled into HVAC systems. Reflex Remove decontamination solution neutralizes the effects of Presidia Gel on contact, providing soothing relief to subjects who can be returned to normal in minutes.
