A World First: Disorientation to Decon Three Times in 15 Minutes Reflex Protect® Defense Spray and Reflex Remove® Decon

MISSOULA, Montana – In an effort to demonstrate to law enforcement the unmatched capabilities of Reflex Protect® defense spray and antidote combination, Deputy Steve Towns was sprayed, rendered incapacitated, and then fully decontaminated repeatedly in the space of 15 minutes. A video of the entire experience is available for viewing on the Reflex Protect YouTube site.

“I’m telling you, you couldn’t pry my eyes open with a crow bar,” the 21-year veteran of the force explains on the video in between being sprayed and decontaminated. “It’s fast and efficient.”

“We created this video to demonstrate how Reflex Protect is unlike anything else on the market,” explains Matt Schaefer, CEO of Reflex Protect and the person deploying the Presidia Gel® in the video. This demo was shot at Tactical Defense Training, the official LE and military training partner for Reflex Protect.

SHOT Show participants and media are invited to see the product combo in action during the company Range Day, 2-6 pm on Monday January 17th at Range 702, located at 5999 Dean Martin Drive in Las Vegas. Those interested should RSVP to tactical@reflexprotect.com. The company is also exhibiting at Booth 62409 in the Galileo ballroom on Level 1 of the Venetian Expo.

Created for use in sensitive hospital environments, Reflex Protect gives law enforcement officers a way to immediately control a subject or inmate at a distance and then use Reflex Remove antidote to decontaminate them in minutes. The tactical product line includes MK-III (1.9 ounce) and MK-IV (3.3 ounce) duty belt sizes and a 5.0 (5 ounce) industry size. Reflex Remove comes in liquid and aerosol options.
