Timber Creek Outdoors Introduces Carbon Fiber AR Accessories Line at SHOT Show 2022

Springfield, OR (January 18, 2022) – Timber Creek Outdoors is excited to announce the expansion of their AR accessories with carbon fiber AR accessories and the introduction of the Enforcer^{CF} line – the next building block for materials in the evolution MSR.

The American-made AR-15 parts are a unique blend of aluminum and molded carbon fiber, resulting in lightweight components that allow for greater muzzle control and increased target acquisition. The Enforcer^{CF} line consists of three new products including a 15" handguard, pistol grip, and buffer tube. The parts will be sold as individual components or as a 13-piece Enforcer^{CF} build kit.

Enforcer^{CF} 15" Handguard:

Strong and lightweight, the Enforcer^{CF} handguard weighs 6.2 ounces and is approximately 30% lighter than the aluminum Enforcer UL handguard. With superior heat disbursement, the Enforcer^{CF} handguards are not only great for competition use, but for any shooter looking for a handguard that won't overheat after multiple shots. Compatible with standard mil-spec AR15 uppers. Requires low-profile gas block. Additional handguard lengths are already in development.

Enforcer^{CF} Pistol Grip:

The Enforcer^{CF} Grip is a drop-in replacement that mounts to any standard mil-spec lower receiver. Weighing in at 4.5 ounces, it won't add any unnecessary weight. Anodized plates that are compatible with standard 1911 plates can be easily changed out to update or adjust colors.

Enforcer^{CF} Buffer Tube:

The Enforcer^{CF} Buffer Tube is a 6-position milspec carbine buffer tube replacement. At just 3.2 ounces, the Enforcer^{CF} buffer tubes are approximately 15% lighter than standard buffer tubes.

"We are so excited about the addition of the Carbon Fiber accessories to our Enforcer line," commented Tyler Tiller, CEO for Timber Creek Outdoors "We are always looking for new and exciting ways to push the envelope in terms of looks and enhanced performance of MSRs. These Carbon Fiber accessories are the perfect combination of the two."

The Enforcer^{CF} line is available in the same 10 great colors as the aluminum Enforcer line that Timber Creek has become known for. Visit booths 44160 and 43960 at SHOT Show to see the products in person.
