FIREARMS TRAINING REINVENTED

BLUEOPS INTRODUCES:

A highly advanced dry-fire product in conjunction with hardware to help individuals of all levels, realize their full firing potential in a safe environment.

OUR PRODUCT:

BlueOps' Xmag has the identical shape of a regular firearm magazine and is inserted into the users own firearm. During Dry Fire practice, Xmag collects a wide spectrum of data through inbuilt sensors, which is then sent to an app and presented to the users.

The app processes all the data from the Xmag, providing users with immediate feedback. The app, in addition, prepares engaging and challenging training scenarios.

COMING SOON:

To complete the overall dry fire experience, Blueops will provide a laser and targets, integrated to the Xmag, in order to present the shooter with hits performances and collect the data.
