

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

July 30, 2025

Regulus Global Announces its presence at SHOT Show 2026

Regulus Global, a leader in defense manufacturing, acquisition, and global delivery, is pleased to announce its participation at SHOT Show, January 20-23, 2026 in Las Vegas, Nevada. Regulus is a team of on-the-ground partners who forge close relationships and execute across the entire value chain, from strategic planning, engineering and manufacturing to hands-on implementation, no matter the complexity or difficulty.

This will be Regulus Global's 11th year attending SHOT Show, the largest annual trade show for the defense, law enforcement, hunting, and shooting sport industries. You can visit the Regulus team in booth 30211 to discuss next-generation defense technology, advanced defense manufacturing, and explore custom solutions tailored for complex operational environments.

"We are excited to showcase new solutions to make America and our allies safer and more secure," said Regulus CEO, Joe Wallis. "SHOT Show is the perfect platform to demonstrate our commitment to innovation, strategic collaboration, and supporting the evolving needs of our clients."

About Regulus Global

Regulus Global serves defense, security, humanitarian, and government clients around the world. Regulus combines field expertise, technology-enabled solutions, next-generation defense manufacturing, and a global logistics network to deliver the products and services that matter the most to the people who need them the most.

Media Contact:

Paul Ekoniak

Senior Director of Governance and Quality

(757) 689-4400

pekoniak@regulusglobal.com