

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GIDEON OPTICS LAUNCHES JUDGE XL REFLEX SIGHT: Bringing Full-Sized Performance to Slimline Pistols

[Butler,PA] – [November 12, 2025] – Gideon Optics, a leader in high-performance firearm optics, today announced the immediate launch of the Judge XL Reflex Sight, a groundbreaking red dot optic designed to deliver an extra-large sight picture while maintaining the compact RMsC footprint required by slimline and double-stack pistols.

The Judge XL directly addresses a long-standing challenge for firearm enthusiasts: the difficulty of pairing large, fast-acquisition optics with increasingly popular compact and performance handguns. By engineering a massive 28mm x 22.5mm window to fit the standard RMsC/Holosun K mounting pattern, the Judge XL offers an unprecedented field of view on guns like the Glock 43X, Sig P365XL, and various 1911 double-stacks, significantly enhancing speed and accuracy.

“The modern handgun market is demanding better optics for sleek slide profiles, and until now, shooters had to settle for a smaller window,” said a spokesperson for Gideon Optics. “The Judge XL changes that narrative. We’ve delivered big-window performance in a compact, rugged package, ensuring that concealed carry and performance shooters no longer have to compromise on their sight picture.”

Key Features of the Judge XL Reflex Sight:

- Extra-Large Lens: Features a 28mm x 22.5mm lens for rapid target acquisition and a wider field of view.
- RMsC Footprint: Designed with the compact RMsC/Holosun K mounting pattern, making it compatible with a wide array of slimline and subcompact pistols.
- Reticle Options: Available with either a Red 6 MOA Dot or a Green 3 MOA Dot.
- Extreme Durability: Constructed from rugged 7075-T6 aluminum, engineered to be IPX-7 waterproof, and 1200Gs shockproof.
- Power Management: Includes a side-loaded CR-1632 battery and Shake-to-Awake technology to maximize battery life without sacrificing readiness.
- Brightness Settings: Ten total brightness settings, including two night-vision compatible modes.

The Gideon Optics Judge XL Reflex Sight is now available for purchase on the Gideon Optics website at an introductory price of $239.99. It comes backed by a lifetime guarantee against defects in materials or workmanship.

About Gideon Optics

Gideon Optics is committed to providing reliable, feature-rich, and affordable optics solutions to shooters of all levels. By focusing on cutting-edge design and real-world performance, Gideon Optics ensures customers receive big-name features without the big-name price tag.

Media Contact: [Bob Bossart] [Director Marketing & Support] [support@gideonoptics.com]