

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Mountain Billy Gun Lab to Debut New 25-Round Magazines and Fire Control Group at SHOT Show

Las Vegas, NV - SHOT Show [2026] - Mountain Billy Gun Lab, the innovative firearms company behind the GOAT-15 platform, is proud to announce the debut of two new products at SHOT Show: a 25-round magazine for the GOAT-15 platform and a new Fire Control Group (FCG) designed to enhance the shooting experience.

The new 25-round magazine expands capacity options for GOAT-15 owners while maintaining the platform's lightweight, compact design and reliability. Built specifically for the GOAT-15 system, the magazine is engineered for smooth feeding and consistent performance, making it ideal for extended range sessions and recreational shooting.

Also making its first public appearance at SHOT Show is Mountain Billy Gun Lab's new Fire Control Group, developed to deliver a refined trigger feel and dependable operation. The FCG reflects the company's continued focus on functional design, shootability, and real-world use without sacrificing the fun and approachability that define the GOAT-15 platform.

"SHOT Show is the perfect place to introduce these products," said Eric Schmid, founder of Mountain Billy Gun Lab. "Both the 25-round magazine and the new upgrade kit are direct responses to what our customers and the shooting community have been asking for. We're excited to finally show them in person."

SHOT Show attendees are invited to visit Mountain Billy Gun Lab at Booth #42943 to see the new 25-round magazines and Fire Control Group up close, along with the latest GOAT-15 configurations, custom builds, and to enter a gun giveaway.

About Mountain Billy Gun Lab

Mountain Billy Gun Lab is an American firearms company focused on creating innovative, lightweight .22LR platforms designed for fun, accessibility, and reliability. Best known for the world's lightest semi-automatic rifle, the GOAT-15, Mountain Billy Gun Lab blends thoughtful engineering with a passion for the shooting sports and community-driven product development.

Media Contact:

Taylor Wisnewski
Marketing Manager

Mountain Billy Gun Lab
twisnewski@mtnbilly.com
www.mtnbilly.com